UNION COUNTY COURTHOUSE, ELIZABETH--

Freeholder Chairman Christopher Hudak announced a series of initiatives for 2014 that included the creation of free Wifi in several County locations, and programs addressing gun control, economic development, planning, recreation, health and wellness.

Chairman Hudak also added the County would continue Freeholder Linda Carter's initiative, UCSTEP, a unique program promoting positive youth development through topics such as civic engagement.

Hudak said the County would add an effort by Support 4 Soldiers, a group that participated in UCSTEP and won the project competition to the County's initiatives for 2014: The group will set up collection points at High Schools throughout the County and other locations to gather supplies to send to active military personnel.
